The appearance, however, of bids from the Southern Pacific (which actually means the Union Pa-(which actually means the Union Pacific, and that means Kuhn, Loeb, Harriman and the Vanderbilts) provides a new phase for the situation, and suggests developments of greater conrequence than others hitherto discussed. It is as big as the average mountain lake and rather deep. Its waters are crude oil and its waves kerosene. It is fed by copious seepages and all districts around about give evidence of oil in quantities surpassing the fields of Pennsylvenia, Texas or the Russian Caspian region. Perry Heath pronounces it the richest peroleum find on earth. The lake alone contains fluid that not all the railways on earth could carry away. The oil is of such purity, moreover, that cars may let pipes into the lake and pump up to fill their reservoirs. The lake will transfer Senator Clark from a copper king into a new oil king.

Hence it is believed that its validity will be overturned by the courts in this emergency. by the courts in this emergency.

The only difference between the Spooner resolution and its counter-part of Jefferson's day is that the part of Jefferson's day is that the efficacy of the Spooner resolution was considerably weakened by the Hoar amendment, which takes from the President the right to grant franchises or in any way dispose of the public domain, except under the greatest public exigency. It was an open secret at the time that if the opposition among the Republican leaders of the Senate to the Hoar amendment would not have threatened an extra session by precipitating a long and profitiess debate, the amendment never would have been fastened on the Spooner resolution. However, as it was the general understanding that the amendment would be standing that the amendment we repealed at the next season of Con-gress, it is inferred that all have agreed that it cannot do a great deal of positive harm in the mean time. DUR TRADE WITH SPAIN. PRESENT YEAR THE GREATEST.

PRESENT TEAR THE GREATEST.

(BY THE NEW ASS/CIATED PRESS-A M.)

NEW YORK, June 2.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says commercial relations between Spain and the United States seem to be fully restored, and it is not improbable that American exports to that country in the fiscal year 1901 will be greater, with possibly a single exception, than in any preceding year.

Exports from the United States to Spain in the fine months ended with March, 1901, were valued at $11,878,949, against $10,081,980 in the corresponding months of last year, and $7,091,043 in the corresponding period of the fiscal year 1899. These figures for the year up to this time indicate that the total exports to Spain in the fiscal year 1901 will be about $11,600,000, while in 1891 the exports to Spain were $14,619,335; in 1880, $14,457,884, and in 1888, the one year in which the $15,000,000 line was exceeded, $16,831,287.

On the import side the figures of the present fiscal year are largely in excess of those of 1890, which were the largest since 1891. The annual imports from Spain into the United States since 1891 have ranged from $3,500,000 to $6,000,000, averaging about $4,500,000, while for the present fiscal year they seem likely to exceed $5,000,000.

IST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. TACOMA (Wash.) June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. T. J. Vaughan Rys, who spent the summer, two years ago, in prospecting Unimak Island, one of the Aleutians, expresses the belief that the Aleutian Islands will be found rich in placer gold and gold-bearing quartz. Dr. Rys went to Unimak Island to investigate the large sul-phur deposits known to exist there. It was found impracticable to mine the sulphur because the island has no har-bor from which it might be shipped. Dr. Rys visited some of the other islands and exchanged confidences with gold-bearing streams, which, it is beleved, compare favorably with the creeks of Cape Nome. Several fisher-men and seal hunters were taking out gold on Unimak Island, but could not save all of it, owing to their very crude appliances.

On Unga Island, in the Aleutians, the Alaska Commercial Company is opera-ing one of the richest quartz mines Alaska. With the exception of Un mak, all the large islands have good harbors, which are open the year round, giving great advantage over the Nome country.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nearly 100 more men were at work at the Risdon Iron Works today than left there at the close of ast week's strike, Saturday evening and most of them are in the machin ess struggle against the employers and again sought work only they them-selves know. Whether they are union men or not members of any trades or-ganization was not asked of them. Whether the fact of their employment is the first break in the strikers' ranks which may be followed by other breaks, and ultimately end the strike, is a disputed question. Some of the mployers think it is, but at the headquarters of the strikers their leaders has been no change in the strike sithas been no change in the strike sit-uation. Asked who the men who re-turned to work are, they say they do not know, and then repeat that there has been no change. Although the la-bor leaders will not admit it, this one change in the strike condition is not to their liking, for, as was predicted in The Times yesterday, it is almost cer-tain to have just the effect the strike leaders do not want it to have, namely that of causing some of the strikers to return to work in spite of the union. Murphy for the company, said that not more than sixteen or seventeen men quit. Besides the men in the Crane plant, eighty workmen struck in three other places, while agreements, according to Mr. Ireland of the machinists, were signed with five firms, whose names will be given out later.

The resolutions say:

"We are opposed to the expansion of our national boundaries for the acquisition of territory populated by other than the Caucasian race.

"We are opposed to arbitrary interference by Federal authorities in the local affairs, and we especially object to government by injunction as a newarch and highly dangerous form of oppression by which Federal judges in contempt of all laws of the Stats and right of its citizens become at once legislators, judges and executors.

"We view with alarm the evident desire to increase the standing army. Aside from the enormous expense a large military establishment imposes upon the producers of the nation, who are the actual taxpayers, we know from historical facts and our own experience that it is the chosen weapon of tyrants, already a foe to individual rights of the common people, and incompatible with free institutions. ACK OF SPIRITUALITY AMONG LUTHERANS.

PROF. WOLFE SPRINGS SENSATION

Declares That the Fire of Piety Burns Low, In His Report on the Condition of the Church, But Report Is Sent Back for Repairs.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 DES MOINES (Iowa) June 3.—Prof. E. J. Wolfe of Gettysburg. Pa., created a sensation in the Evangelical Lutheran General Synod today by his report on the condition of the church, saying there was a woeful lack of spirituality and Godliness in the descriptions and that the fire of piety spirituality and Godliness in the de-nomination, and that the fire of piety burned low. He said:

"Our church has suffered very seriously from defective government and as long as loud voices are heard for individualism and unbridled liberty, so long as the general good must be subordinated to the rights of private judgment, our progress must fall and our institutions languish. The love of many for the church has grown care of souls."

Dr. A. H. Studebaker of Brooklyn denounced the report as the most dagraceful jeremiad he had ever heard, saying it did not in any monner reflect the spirit or belief of the synod, and after a hot debate it was referred back to the committee for rewriting, leaving out the offensive parts.

The sixteenth biennial report of the Board of Church Extension showed a total of gifts amounting to $122.250.

The net receipts for the two years were $113,644, an excess of $21,941 over the past biennium, an increase of 24 per cent., making the finest record in the church history. The total number of individual congregations assisted by loans was sixty-two, and donations, 120. The receipts, including cash balances, are $386,677. The board recommended that the General Synod apportion among the district synods the sum of $40,000 annually for church extension, beginning with April 1, 1902. The report was adopted. The anniversary of the board will be celebrated tonight.

The statistical secretary reported

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The racing season at Oakland will close a week from next Saturday. This announcement was made today by Danan increase of sixteen over the last report. The present reported com-municant membership is 198,428, an increase of 629. The estimated value municant membership is 198,428, an increase of 629. The estimated value of the church property is $12,365,556, a gain of $235,612. The indebtedness is $1.221,144. a decrease of $43.382. The number of Sunday-schools is 1638, an increase of 94. The total of contributions during the biennium was $3,332,-739, an increase of $110,830.

A resolution was adopted "That it is the sense of the general synod that the board of foreign missions, in declining to return Rev. N. F. Yelser as a missionary to India, acted in good faith and wisdom, and no impeachment of the acts or character of Mr. Yelser as missionary was thereby intended."

The committee to revise the apportionment reported on a basis of 200,000 communicants, the following allotments: Home missions. $56,000: foreign missions, $40,000: church extension, $40,000: pastors' fund. $14,000: home for aged. $10,000: general synod, $6000.

THAT BRIDE OF A MONTH. Mrs. Lulu Prince-Kennedy Brought Into Court for Trial for the Murder of

Her Husband. Y THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
KANSAS CITY, (Mo.) June 3.—Mrs.
Lulu Prince-Kennedy, the bride of a month, who has been in the County Jail since January 10 last, held under indictment for murder in the first degree for deliberately killing her husband, Philip S. Kennedy, contracting agent of the Merchants' Dispatch Transportation Company, was brought to trial in the criminal court here today. The woman's father. C. W. Prince, proprietor of a billiard hall; Albert Prince, a traveling musician, and William Prince, a young business man, will be tried later on a charge of conspiring with Mrs. Kennedy to kill her husband. The father and Albert Prince are out on bond, while William Prince is in jail, his relatives' canvass for bail having proven unsuccessful.

The case is one of the most unusurd in local criminal history, and sensations are promised by the State. Both the Kennedy and Prince families have lived in Kansas City for years, the Kennedys being prominent in social and business circles. Philip S. Kennedy was 28 years old. He had known Lu'u Prince for a year, and in that time had paid her some attention. In December last they were married at the Courthouse by a local judge. Kennedy refused to live with his wife, and a few months later brought suit to have the marriage annulled, alleging marriage under duress. He charged that the woman's father and brother William compelled him at the point of revolvers to go before the judge and be married, threatening him with death if he demurred.

A few days after the suit was filed, lemurred.

A few days after the suit was filed, n January 10, at 5:20 o'clock in the vening. Mrs. Kennedy appeared at er husband's office, and, calling him its the hall, shot him five times, killg him instantiy, and kickins. into the hall, shot him five times, killing him instantiy, and kicking his prostrate body. Kennedy's brother tried to disarm the woman, and while doing so was struck down by William Prince. The latter's presence in the building, and the movements in the vicinity of the Princes that day led to their arrest on charges of being accomplices in a conspiracy to kill Kennedy.

During her five months' confinement in jail. Mrs. Kennedy, who is but 20 years old, has shown no remorge for her crime, and has frequently enjoyed concerts given in her cell by her musician brother. Each side has worked up its case carefully, the State having summoned 125 witnesses, and the defense nearly that number. Last night, for the first time since her daughter has been in jail, Mrs. Prince visited her daughter, who talked coolly of her coming trial.

attained to such prominence through

Tamaya saw Gov.-Gen. Wood today, but the general was unable to give them any definite information, saying he expected a communication from Washington Tuesday, which he will forward to the convention for official decision.

Civil Gov. Quinian says that before voting on the majority report he informed the convention that he did not believe that the United States would be satisfied with the form in which the amendment was adopted, including the explanation. The committee, however, positively informed him that they knew the United States would be satisfied, It is expected that the discussion this afternoon will disclose the committee's source of information.

Two members of the Horticultural Commission were present by invitation and assisted in the counsels of the murserymen. The commissioners stated that they had examined every nursery in the city, having a report of their present conditions on file for reference. They are making a map of each nursery, greenhouse and tree depot in the city, giving in detail the condition of each nursery greenhouse and tree depot in the city, giving in detail the condition of each nursery. condition of each tree and plant on the premises surrounding the nurseries. The commissioners stated that adjacent property owners have been ordered to clean up their premises in accordance with the efforts to cleanse every nursery in the city. These notices are legally served as fast as the maps are made, and will do much to assist the tree growers in their efforts to disfinite their stock and keep it clean.

Every one at the meeting last night agreed to cooperate heartily with the horticultural authorities, and it is believed a solution of the difficulties will result with very little friction, or resort to legal extremities. The next meeting will be held at the office of Miss Ethel Lord, between Fourth and Fifth on Broadway, next Monday, at 5 p.m. A large attendance and a hearty accord is assured at that meeting. Permanent officers will then be chosen, and the work planned as outlined at the last meeting. The nurserymen, dealers and florists of all parts of the country are invited to attend and give the movement a boost that shall place the nursery business upon a better basis, and result in the protection of planters from the lils that now befall them from the planting of infected trees. It is thought that the effort now being made will result in the improvement in inspection, quarantine and shipping matters touching the transportation of nursery stock. Every one who is trying to check and finally subdue orchard pests will be pleased to see that the Horticultural Commission is striking at the root of orchard infection by striving to cleanse the nursery trees throughout the county.

DOPULATION OF ITALY.

It will surprise most readers to learn that the population of Italy has nearly, or quite, doubled within the past twenty years. The idea is very generally prevalent in this country that in Italy, as in France and Spain, the increase of population is very slow, or practically at a standstill. Such, is appears, is not the case. The rate of increase of population in Italy during the past twenty years, according to a recent article in the National Geographic Magazine, has been greater than that of eny nation in Europe, and has even exceeded the rate of increase in the United States during the same period; and this large ratio of increase

The last census taken in Italy prior to the one taken this year, was in 1881. The population was then shown to be 21,000,000. According to the census taken early in the present year the population now numbers 35,000,000, showing an increase of 14,000,000. The showing an increase of 14,000,000. The number of emigrants who have left italy during the past twenty years is estimated at from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000. It thus appears that the actual increase by births in twenty years has been not far from 100 per cent. "It has taken the United States thirty years," says the National Geonigrants, to double its numbers."

The piot is so designed that it is not remotely improbable and the action is not too rapid for satisfactory portrayal. The historical setting makes the play of more than ordinary interest as a study of the conditions which obtained in the England of the old days, although a number of the points made prominent in the sketch are not quickly understood by the average twentieth-century audience.

The staging is excellent, although a little trouble on the part of the property man would improve the garden scene. Eighteenth-century rose bushes growing in lard pails apparently only a few months from an Omaha packing-house present a strange mixture of periods.

The entire company works with a spirit of exhilaration. Even at the first night's performance, which was before a full house, there were only a few silps and pauses, which were scarcely noticeable. One of the hits is the assembling of most of the players at the close of the first act when Clorinda Wildairs appears in queenly robes.

John Mason as Sir John Oxen al-

John Mason as Sir John Oxen almost makes that repellant character attractive by sheer force of fine art in rendering. His reading is smoothly done, and his acting is natural. The piece brings him on to the stage at the beginning of the first act and from then until his death there is plenty of work for him.

Katherine Grey is a little woman, who wins the audience even at the start, which is not under auspicious circumstances. The piece gives her wide opportunities for display of anger. remorse and other strong passions, which she simulates admirably. One of her best efforts is after she discovers that the blow struck in anger against Oxen has caused his death. She depicts convincingly the forced gayety about the couch concealing Oxen's body, and in that part is well supported by Miss Mabel Hynes, who appears as Anne Wildairs, the sick sister.

THE ORPHEUM. If one were asked how good the bill at the Orpheum is this week, he should quickly reply. "Go."—And there is just one thing that even a misanthrope would do, if he went, and that is, laugh. That's what a packed house did lust night from rise to fail of curtain, with the edge of the audience ruffled all around with enthusiastic standing spectators. By far the strongest piece of acting on the varied bill is that of James O. Barrows, in a bit of Washington tragedy, called "The Major's Appointment." Mr. Barrows was often applauded last right, in his interpretation of the old broken-down major, who had served with distinction in the war, only to be forgotten and penniless when it was all over, and compelled to seek clerical work in the departments of State, ever without success. One day, after jong, disappointing search, an appointment came on April I, but it was a Joke, perpetrated by young scoundrels in the Treasury Department, and it killed him. The major's grand-daughter, charmingly played by Helen Young, is wooed and won by a treasury-clerk, well presented by John Lancaster, who wasn't in the joke, but pronounced the appointment a fraud, and thus killed the major. John E. Webber, as Mr. Roxy, a heartful collector, is deserving of special mention.

Over against the pathos of the Barrows presentation stands the bright, quick humor of Al Leach and the three rosebuds, Hester Armstrong, Norma Mendia and Cora Killana, in Joe Hart's musical sketch, "Examination Day at School," which keeps the audience in a continual laughter, The spanking machine and Al Leach's ascent of the stairs after the grow hadern.

Burton and Brooks were billed Burton and Brooks were billed as humorous conversationalists. That is what they are. They have "a quiet evening at the club," and say many mean, amusing things to and about each other. Their best hit in the way of song was something about all of us working for an undertaker—an air and chorus borrowed from a catchy old English coffee-house ballad. They announce the song as theirs, but they don't mean to, although the verses sound original, with the exception of the first one.

Dave Genaro and Ray Balley, whose stunt is the poetry of motion, were well received; at first, however, a bit chilly, but in conclusion, with a cyclone of appladse. They are dance artists—original and clean. Their cake walk is elaborate and wonderful. They sing, too, and back-talk.

LONDON, June 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Dr. Regedor Jurado, accompanied by Felix Versoza, a young Filipino, called at the United States Embassy here and obtained a passport for Versoza upon instructions received from Secretary Hay.

The officials of the embassy again explained to a representative of the Associated Press that the only unusual part in the affair is that Dr. Jurado, who has since the insurrection been acting as head of the Filipino jupta, called at the embassy with Versoza.

Dr. Jurado is a native of Spain, and to the representative of the Associated Press he said: "Had they asked me to take the oath of allegiance I certainly would have declined. Province of Slang.

While admitting that certain slang phrases may enrich the language, and that the difference between a living and a dead language is the presence in one and the absence from the other of new worth as a protest must be entered against a too liberal use of unauthorized creations. There are slang words that fill a distinct void—express an idea better than any recognized phrase. They are good. They will make their way into polite speech. SUIT AGAINST MRS. EDDY. Language of the Letter to Mrs. Wood bury Dissected in Trial of Libel Case at Beston. BOSTON, June 3.—The trial of the libel suit of Mrs. Josephine C. Wood-bury against Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science Church, bury against Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science -Church, which was begun last week, was resumed today. There was additional interest in the case because it was understood that Judge S. J. Hanna, the rector of the First Church of Christian Science, who last week could not be found by the court officers, has returned from a vacation, and would appear as a witness. Judge Hanna was in court.

The cross-examination of W. B. Johnson, secretary of the board of directors and clerk of the First Church of Christian Science, was resumed. Mr. Elder, for the defense, objected to a question asking the meaning of the words "mystery of iniquity," contained in the alleged libelous message from Mrs. Eddy to the church.

Judge Bell ruled that the question be answered, but that the answer should have no weight to show what was intended by Mrs. Eddy. The court said the plaintiff must prove two things, namely, that the defendant intended he language used to apply to the plaintiff, and that her hearers and leaders as understood if.

The question was then repeated, and Johnson said: "By 'mystery' is meant something which has never been solved. As regards 'iniquity.' that is something which the courts and church people have tried unsuccessfully for generations to define, and I am therefore not able to explain what it meant."

\] Mr. Peabody then took up a letter written by Mrs. Eddy to Mrs. Woodbury on March 24, 1894, and reading the first paragraph in which Mrs. Eddy denied that she had any part in the excommunication of Mrs. Woodbury, asked the witness if Mrs. Woodbury had been excommunicated at that time. Witness at first answered "No," but when his attention was again called to the matter by a submequent question, he said he wished to change his answer to "Yes."

Judge Hunt said that conflicting reports of the decisions in the Porto Rico case, made it somewhat uncertain when he left the island as to what was the true import. Under the decisions, however, he said it would not be many months before there would be free trade between Porto Rico and the United States. He said that when the new revenue law went into operation after July 1, the government of the island, with duties collected on foreign importations and with excise taxes, would have enough revenue to maintain itself.

During the meal an altercation a rose between the waiter and the stranger, during which the latter exhibited a revolver. Brown, as an officer, relieved the stranger of the revolver and he was sent home.

Bert Levy was made custodian of the revolver, and after making a careful examination of it, came to the conclusion that it was without cartifless.

"There's nothing in it," said Levy, as he turned the gun in Brown's direction. He snapped it a second time, when, bang! a bullet tore a hole in the floor, missing Brown's body by less than an inch. A further examination disclosed the fact that four chambers of the revolver were loaded, and the lunch party broke up before Levy could make any further demonstrations.

Important Presbyterian Assembly of the Century.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, arrived at home yesterday from Philadelphia, whither he had gone as one of the commissioners from Los Angeles Presbytery to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. He returns in excellent health and spirits, his only mishap having been a delay of twenty-one hours by a wreck at Las Vegas.

Dr. Walker received marked attention from the body of which he was a member, in being made chairman of the standing Committee on Home Missions. He also gained some prestige in having named the successful candidate for moderator, Rev. Dr. Minton of California, who was elected over Dr. Purvis of New York.

While the Califorgia delegation railed to secure the meeting for Los Angeles in 1902, they got the promise of it for 1903, and have actually "builded better than they knew." Next to securing the assembly itself, it is a great card to have it at a time when some question of supreme importance will attract to it the attention of the whole world. The action of the late assembly in providing for a committee to report at the convention of 1902, unexpectedly transferred the great contest on revision of the creed to the assembly of 1903, which will meet in Los Angeles. The committee in question will report to the next assembly, which-will meet in New York: its report will be referred to the thirty-two presbyteries in the Urited States for action, and will come up for final consideration in 1903. Revision is likely to be accomplished, and it will go down into history as the work of the Los Angeles assembly. Dr. Walker, as is well known, favors moderate revision, as probably do a majority of Presbyterians everywhere. Wells the Califorpia delegation failed to secure the meeting for Los Angeles in the club, the property of R. E. J. Meyer, was shown. His remarks were reënforced by a substantial argument from the Los Angeles and Pasadena Railroad Company in the slape of an offer of financial help. Through the manager, C. W. Smith, the company offered to donate $1000 for the improvement of the park if the plan were adopted.

The offer of Mrs. Martha Winans to sell land adjacent to the grove for $1750, and that of Horace M. Dobbins to sell other land for $500 were filed.

The price asked for the park itself is $10,000. This includes ninety-four feet of land lying to the westerly border of the park, which it is proposed to dedicate as a public street.

Judge Allen pointed out the fact that there is no place in the city today where children can go to play. The yacant lots of the city are fast disappearing, owing to the increase of building, and most of the schools are improperly equipped with playgrounds.

Little Viola Murphy in Court on Habeas Corpus Proceedings-Witnesses to be Brought from Arizona-Mrs. Guldin, Alleged Kidnaper, Out of Jail.

Little Viola Murphy was the bone of contention yesterday in two distinct processes of law which both her father William H. Murphy and her mother, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Guldin, propose to fight to the bitter end. Those processes were a petition for habeas corpus, and a petition to be appointed guardian, both filed by the father, and it is understood that the mother, too, will begin a guardianship proceeding. derstood that the mother, too, will begin a guardianship proceeding.

Such are the latest steps in the alleged kidnaping of a little girl from the Boyd-street school on Friday. It will be remembered that, according to the father's tale of woe, the kidnaper was the mother of his child, and he swears that she ruthlessly deserted them several years ago, and in Arizona recently married annother man, after having sued out a divorce and obtained an order of court giving her custody of an only child by the former union. Armed with this order of the Territorial court, it was her plan on Friday to get across the line tefore Murphy knew what was doing. But the school teachers folied her scheme, and she was arrested at Sierra Madre and, together with the child, lodged in the City Jajil.

1 sesterday Mrs. Guldin filed a $1000 bond in the Township Court, approved by Justice James, and was released from custody She is now at the holenbeck Hotel, pending the criminal and civil hearing in which she is involved. Her first husband was a canvasser; her second is a mining man of considerable money.

Murphy, the tather of Viola, states in his guardianship petition that his daughter is "at present under the control of Mary E. Guidin, who kidnapid said child from the possession and care of petitioner on May 31, 1901." Viola is 9 years old.

In his petition for a writ of habeas corpus Murphy claims right to the child, and alleges that her mother is an unit person to rear the girl. The writ was served on Sheriff Hammel, for early yesterday morning Murphy's attorneys, Messrs. Dunning & Craig, got an order from Judge Trask directing that she be turned over by the mother to the Sheriff.

In answer to the petition of Mrs. Guldin's erstwhile husband, she says she married him in July, 18:9; that Viola was born in 1891, and that she was divorced in Arisona in April, 1998, and given custody of the child. When Viola was 3 years old, says the answer, her father forcibly took her from her mother, and detained her many months before she was regained. Again, in 1896, he took her away and concealed her whereabouts, and it was not until last week that the mother saw her little daughter again.

Mrs. Guldin further alleges that Murphy is violent and uncontrollabe in temper, and often cruel and dangerous. She also thinks that he is living an immoral and dissolute life. It is her belief that Viola is just at the age when she will need a mother most, and that in the past her father kept her in a lodging-house with him alone, and often beat her cruelly, frequently neglecting her, and never properly clothing or feeding her. Mrs. Guldin also asserts that his surroundings and habits of life are surely ruinous to the child's mental and moral welfare.

Judge Trask continued the hearing on habeas corpus yesterday until Thuraday, at which time both this proceeding and the guard ansh.p matter will be continued ten days or two weeks to enable witnesses to get here from Arisona. Meantime the disputed the Supreme Court had reversed the judgment of the lower court in the case of the People vs. Z. Williams of Pasadena, wherein the defendant was charged with criminal assault on the person of little Nora Tomlinson, a girl under 16 years of age, who lived in his home for many months, and is said to have been ravished by him daily and sometimes oftener during that time. Williams was tried three times before a jury could be found to convict, whereupon he was sentenced to some eighteen years in the penitentiary at San Quentin. His first jury stood 10 to 2 for conviction, and the second jury was of the same complexion, but the figures were 11 to 1.

WILLIAMS GETS NEW TRIAL Word reached this city yesterday that the Supreme Court had reversed the judgment of the lower court in the

The opinion of the Supreme Court has not yet been received at the local office, but the reversal is supposed to be on the alleged error of the lower court in instructing the jury to find the defendant guilty if the jury were satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant, on or about October 21, 1899, or at any time within a period of three years prior to the finding of the indictment by the grand jury, had sexual intercourse with the prosecuting witness. The effect of this instruction, it was urged, was to submit to the jury the question of the defendant's guilt of any one of the acts of sexual intercourse to which the little girl testified. This is a stock instruction which lower courts have been giving for years, but only recently a northern case was reversed by reason of it.

This action for a writ of mandate is entirely friendly, and is begun by the official shorthand reporters of the county to test the constitutionality of the new law. The Superior Court of Alameda county has recently held this law to be unconstitutional and void. The warrant turned down by the County Treasurer covers Longley's salary for May.

"Yes," said one of the official reporters yesterday, "we stenographers in the Superior Court are in trouble. Until the meeting of the late lamented Legislature, our services were paid for by fees collected from the litigants in each individual case. The Legislature undertook to shift a portion of this expense from the litigants to the county by providing a salary of $200 per month, to be paid by the county, and providing that $6 a day should be collected from the litigants (in lieu of $10 as before,) and paid into the county treasury. This new law went into effect in March, and we have been working under it since that time. But now comes the Superior Court of Alameda county and declares that a similar provision of the law, having reference to that county, is unconstitutional and void. We would be quite content to go back under the operation of the old law, if that were possible, as it offers opportunities for work outside the Superior Court, from which we are precluded by the salary law is declared unconstitutional by either the Supreme Court or our own Superior Court. So, to avoid the loss we would sustain if the salary law were finally upset, by getting neither fees nor salary, we are compelled to bring this suit to sustain the law, or at least get it decided." nance forbidding the playing of poker is unconstitutional and-invalid. It is the contention that the authority of the city to suppress gambling games as embodied in the charter, only applies to those gambling games as embodied in the charter, only applies to those gambling games under the ban of the general law. Several Federal decisions were cited in support of this position.

As regards the legality of poker, a decision of Chief Justice Beatty, in which the following language occurs, was introduced:

"Poker played for meney, however objectionable in fact, is in the eyes of the law as innocent, as chess or any game played for simple recreation; and its votaries and the places where it is played are not criminal."

ONE OF THE OUICKEST TURNS IN WHEAT YET MADE

Weare Commission Co. Begins Buyulation on a Large Scale.

ABY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, June 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Excitement broke out in a new spot on 'change this morning. There developed in an hour in the wheat pit evidence of a "corner" managed by one of the largest concerns in the grain trade of the world, the Weare Commission Company. July wheat opened with a break of ½ cent at 75 cents. There was selling by the pit trade, and the price tumbled to 7½ cents. Then something happened. Weare took all the wheat the crowd sold. His brokers kept on taking it. In a minute every man who had sold out at the opening was bidding to get out at the opening was bidding to get the wheat back. The result was one of the quickest turns in the wheat trade in months. From 74% cents, the trade in months. From 74% cents, the July price went in a few moments to 76%, or % of a cent over the high point of last week.

Just before the close there was another big jump. Almost before the brokers could realize it, July option was selling at 78% cents, or nearly 2 cents over the high point of last week. Brokers who have been observing Weare tactics in the pit for days believe he has accumulated a line of possibly 10,000,000 bushels of wheat. Contract wheat stocks here have decreased

SECRETARY LONG'S VIEWS.

Supreme Court's Decision in the It sular Cases Was Justifiable and Made Administration Less Embarrassing.

views on the Supreme Court decision in the Porto Rican cases. It is as follows:

"The decision of the Downes case sustains the government, and is in accordance with the views of the Republicans in Congress. I understand that it recognizes fully and clearly the power of Congress to legislate in its discretion with regard to the revenue relations of our insular possessions. Any other construction of the Constitution than this would have made the regulation of our relations with the new Territories a maze of inextricable confusion and inefficiency, and an example of how not to do it, and would have resulted in the stay of our commercial progress. It is not easy to detail the embarrassments in which the administration of insular affairs would have been involved. Their status is so essentially different from that of the States of the Union that the same legislation for both is simply impracticable. This is so clear that it goes without saying, and this decision is fortunate.

"Now, because of this very thing, there will be those who will say that the court has been governed by the necessities of the case and the interests of the administration. On the contrary. I believe no other decision was justifiable as pure matter of constitutional law and of precedent. It is the decision outlined by John Quincy Adams, by John Marshall, by Daniel Webster, by the most eminent authorities, and by previous decisions of the court itself. In the old proslavery days, the effort was made to carry slavery into the Territories, under the theory that the Constitution went there with it, but that doctrine never found favor in popular opinion, which is now confirmed by the present decision of the Supreme Court.

"The country will breathe freer, and the administration, confirmed in its views and strengthened in its work, will carry it on in the interest of all concerned with renewed assurance of universal good results."

MEMORIAL EXERCISES BY DAUGH-TERS OF CONFEDERACY.

Thirty Graves Decorated in Cemeter ies of Los Angeles and a Memorial Address by Nathan Newby, on the

Robert E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, held memorial services in Y.M.C.A. Hell yesterday elebration of the birthday anniversary celebration of the birthday anniversary of Jefferson Davis, and, the day is recognized by the chapter as a holiday. The altar was banked with flowers and tropical foliage, and the walls were hung with flag-draped photographs of Lee, Davis and Benurgard. A short and interesting memorial programme was rendered. Rev. Mr. Lee of the South Methodist Church, opened the services with prayer. The pened the services with prayer. Th

Nathan Newby made an interesting address. He said that the soldier of the South fought for what he believed to be civil liberty, according to the Constitution, and not for human slavery. That his motives were as pure and that he thought he was as loyal to civil liberty. dier of the Union, is a ract vindicate ioyai to civil liberty as was the solidier of the Union, is a fact vindicated not only by contemporaneous nistory, but by his heroism, and it is a cause for congratulation that these questions can now be viewed caiming and in a judicial frame of mind, rather than through the lens of prejudice. The soldiers of the North and the soldiers of the South who have survived that great struggle, are now ready to accord to each other purity of motives. There is an added pathos connected with this ceremony, in that it is perpetuating the memory of the soldiers who fought for a lost cause.

"The southern soldier accepted in good faith the arbitrament of arms, and, as the eloquent Grady said: 'Since Lee surrendered to Grant at Appomation, nowhere in the South has Hamilicar sworn young Hannibal to hatred and vengeance, but everywhere to loyalty and to love.' And the wounds in every heart, as in every hill of the South, have been healed long ago. There is no more loyal portion of the Union today than the thirteen States which sought to construct a separate confederacy, and since the recent gracious utterances of our Chief Mag-gracious uterances of our Chief Mag-istrate we may say that at last the war is officially closed, and we have in practice as well as in theory, 'an indissoluable Union of indestructible States, and liberty and union are in-separably united.'"

Mr. Newby closed by saying that a necode that could forget such deeds

BICILY LEMON CROP POOR. G. Crietta of G. Cutietta & Co., prominent importers of Sicily lemons, has recently returned from a trip abroad is see the possibilities of the lemon indestry during the coming season, says the New York Commercial. He takes a gloomy view of the situation in Italy, and declares that the crop is much smaller, and of poorer quality than for some years. He says it will run principally 80s and not very good at that. He doesn't think shipments will hold up to their present volume for any length of time, believing, instead, that there must be a reduction almost immediately. He looks for a curtailed market and higher prices.

His satements bear out the information necived in letters from Italy. Importers have received many communications relating substantially the same story. He has seemed to them that there wall be a better market in the future, and they have not hesitated to ay as The trade has not accepted their statements dis final, however, apparently inhaking that an attempt was long sade to cause lemons now here to all at fictifious prices.

It seems, however, from a careful comparison of the statement in letters and these made by returned travelers, with the possibilities for consumption, that shalever one's inclinations may be it is almost impossible to escape the conclusion that the outlook is decidedly buillish. The recent upward an seems to confirm this view.

MERICAN TEA. Fifteen tea plants are just arrived for the Pan-America Exposition from Pinehurst, says a Buffalo Inquirer, the tea plantation for Charles U. Shepard of Summeria, S. C. FLIRTING IN THE CHOIR. The dear old hymn is read once more; the pious people rise.

And with exulting voices sing of mansions in the skies:

The deacon's voice rings clear and loud, he feels the sacred fire.

And two who sing, scarce knowing what, are flirting in the choir.

The people kneel and bow their heads, and hear their shepherd pray For guidance by the Lord of Hosts and succor day by day; They hear him plead for sinners who are sinking in the mire, And up behind the curtains there is flirting in the choir.

We hear him gravely read the text, and then proceed to show
The beauties that are set along the way the just should go:
He scoffs at flesh-pots of the world, and points to something higher, and points to somethin And knows not that behin is firting in the choir.

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow"—Ah, many a heart is thrilled! And now the shepherd's hands are raised, the organ's notes are stilled: The words of benediction lift men's aspirations higher; But two, ignoring God and men, still flirt on in the choir.

I COUNT MY TIMES. I count my times by times I meet thee;
These are my yesterdays, my morrows, noons
And nights; these my old moons and my new moons.
Slow fly the hours, or fast the hours do flee,
If thou art far from or art near to me.
If thou are near, the wintry days are no times:

no tunes; If thou art near, the wintry days as If thou art near, the wintry days as Junes.

Darkness is light and sorrow cannot be. Thou art my dream come true, and thou my dream.

The air I breathe, the world wherein I dwell;

My journeys' end thou art, and thou the way

Thou art what I would be, yet only seem seem. [Richard Watson Gilder, in Book World.

EVI.-BRITISH NORTH BORNEO.

HIS series of sketches of colonial governments would be incomplete if it did not include at least one case of land acquired and developed case of land acquired and developed by a chartered company. This system of subletting portions of the British empire to private companies during the time of clearing and initial develop-ment has been so successful that it at least merits consideration. Though there is little doubt that the companies must always give way to crown gov-ernment after a time, they are always anxious to develop new country. In return for the privileges of the trad-ing rights in a country the company the company free to miles of the full advantage of the trade is the settled and organised country. It is certain that under the company the country is developed much more rapidly and much more inexpensively than under direct State control.

In this connection it is of interest to contrast the expenses of government in 1887 of Fiji under crown government and British North Borneo under a chartered company. Fiji, with an area of 7400 square miles and a population of over 128,000, expended 218,000, and this in a year of rigid comonny; while in North Borneo, with an area of 31,000 square miles and a population of over 150,000, the company spended £29,000 only. This difference in expense is largely to be traced to the fact that crown government starge in comparison with the resources of the colony, while the chartered company enlarges its establishments as the resources are developed. The crown government starts completely equipped to deal with the colony, say fifty years hence, and is consequently unslessly expensive until that period is reached; the company, on the other hand, starts with a small establishment and only enlarges it as the revenue permits.

every instance act in restraint of that power."

Finally the charter was granted, and since then the development of the country has been so marvelously successful as never to cause the government to regret the granting of the charter. The British government, in the charter, reserves the fullest control over the proceedings of the company, and thus encourages it to carry on its work under a full sense of imperial responsibility. There is no expense to the government, and it is only called upon to exercise a protecting influence against aggressive action from without.

"As regards the general features of the undertaking it is to be observed that the territories granted to the company have been for generations under the government of the Sultans of Sulu and Brunei, with whom Great Britain has had treatles of peace and commerce; and far from any disorders arising out of the occupation of those territories by British subjects, under the concessions of the Sultans, the advent of the company has been welcomed everywhere by the inhabitants. The experience of three years shows that the peaceful and intelligent development of the great natural resources of the country is steadily increasing, and there is every reason to believe that a sound and liberal system of administration will be established by the company, which will apread the benefits of civilization among the native population and open up new and important fields to British trade and enterprise, and to the commerce of all nations."

this vast territory: to leave it to Mr. Dent and the important company which he represented, to make the best of the concessions granted to them—in other words, we might have left matters to take their own course—or to leave the whole country to its almost inevitable absorption by foreign nations. There were grave objections to the first and third courses that did not appear to apply to the second.

The jerboa is a rather pretty little animal, which now roams about scores of West End and suburban houses. He has the head of a small rabbit and the body of a diminutive kangaroo. His forelegs are short, almost to the vanishing point, while his hind legs are absurdly long. Upon the latter he hops about the house with amazing energy, and his favorite amusement is breaking costly china. Jerboas are selling at £1.

Mr. Jamrach has lately come into possession of an animal which, despite

Mr. Jamrach has lately come into possession of an animal which, despite his lifelong experience, he has never seen before and cannot identify. He consulted the famous naturalist, who created the "zoo" at Tring Park, but neither could he give the animal a name. "What is it?" is something like a squirrel, and is yet not a squirrel. In fact, up to the present it is nothing more than "What is it?"

For some unaccountable reason, the Siberian nutcracker is becoming a bird pet, although he is not particularly handsome, and costs £15. For another £10 one can get a gorgeous macaw with a twenty-four-inch tail, that rivals the hues of the rainbow.

But, after all, mere outward appearances are oftentimes deceptive, even in bird life. The other day an ornamental paroquet at one of the private "zoos" willifully and deliberately murdered his wife. This dreadful bird is a blaze of green, gold, red and blue, with a bright, chirpy manner, an honest eye, and open countenance. And yet, after a slight domestic quarrel, he moet foully slew his helpmate! Worse still, he manifests not the slightest sign of sorrow or repentance. Who will buy him for £6?

Other out-of-the-way pets that are being sold just now, include the kea, a bird which appears to be afflicted with St. Vitus' dance, and could, no doubt, be taught to play at skipping rope with the children. His price is only £5 is. Black llamas are fetching £25, Ural owls £10, Japanese bears, £10, polecats (not in great demand) £2, dog-faced monkeys £3, Chinese mocking birds £6, young boss (not for wear) 20s., and white Persian cats, with blue eyes £10.

But the most expensive pet of all, for his size, is the white mouse is valued at £50, because it is striped like a zebra, and has other peculiarities that render it cheap in the eyes of judges at £3 an ounce.

With the spread of the taste for strange and curious pets, has come a corresponding diversity in the character of the four-footed passengers in London streets. Last, aummer it was a corresponding diversity in the character of t

6 On the society page appeared a notice of the postponement of Miss Arthur's marriage, which was to have taken place the following day. The reason assigned was the unsettled condition of Miss Arthur's nerves, due to her narrow escape.

I visited the hospital, but could not see the patient. His life could be saved, but he would be a cripple for life.

I didn't call again until I learned by the paper that Mr. Allen was able to receive visitors. Then I was rather afraid he would not care to see me; but he seemed glad to have me there. He was sitting propped up in a chair, looking pale and thin, but remarkably happy. Around the room were arransed several bouquets of fresh cut flowers. The way they were arranged was what first caught my attention—a touch here and there, that makes the plainest kind of a room take on the appearance of a home, and that touch sir, can only be given by the hand of a loving woman.

We chatted on different unimportant subjects until I rose to go, when he put out his hand, and, with a smile, said: "You remember the last bet I made? Well, I think chance decided in my favor after all."

I didn't know what he meant just then, but later, as I came down the stairs, I met Miss Arthur just going up, her arms full of flowers. Then I understood.

Yes, sir; he married her, though most treated and the polaried him. Because of the weak and irrepaction of the heart the blood moves more slowly, becomes impure and loss of its life-sustaining properties, and muscles, tissues and nerves literally starve lack of nourishment. Cold feet, chilly sensations up and down the spine, appetite and digestion, soreness of the muscles, rheumatic pains, hard and finestin, face sores, chronic running ulcers on the lower limbs and other parts of body—these and many other diseases peculiar to old people are due to a lad healthy blood and imperfect circulation. Home for the Summer.

The superstructure is partly erected and the laying of brick was commenced resterday on the new market house, at Ninth and Los Angeles streets, on the ground just vacated by the city. The Chinese vegetable vendors seemingly all cling to the old location. In reply to a question one of them said yesterday: "All stay here; nobody go down therar no place hitch horses." Temporary market stalls and a large hitch as ground, have been provided at the old stand.
